

hey dee ho educational services philosophy

- hey dee ho educational services believe that our role is to nurture children's natural curiosity by extending their interests through interactive programs that offer educational topics to broaden their knowledge base and involvement with the world around them. We believe that each child's learning journey is unique and requires a combination of emotions and senses within a social, non-threatening environment.
- hey dee ho educational services has developed four programs to cater for the varied interests and stages of children's development. The music, yoga, fitness and drama resources are chosen to reflect and respect the cultural values of all families within the community whilst supporting physical, social, emotional, cognitive, language and sensory awareness. hey dee ho educational services has an ongoing commitment to embed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives in all of our programs.
- Props are handmade from natural fibre wherever possible, encouraging interactive involvement with all age groups within each play based, themed activity.
- hey dee ho educational services believe that learning should be a positive, exciting and confidence building experience.
- hey dee ho educational services recognise and support all learning styles and senses in line with the Early Years Learning Framework and the National Quality Standards

hey dee ho educational services code of ethics

- Integrity: hey dee ho educational services is committed to the highest level of honesty and reliability within each relationship and maintain current, accurate and timely communication
- Kindliness: hey dee ho educational services is committed to a positive, kind and empathetic approach as a matter of priority at all times, ensuring the dignity and respect of all participants, team members and business associates
- Excellence: hey dee ho educational services strives to provide cutting edge, industry compliant programs with high standards of performance from all our team members and franchisees. We are committed to maintaining superior service through our research and regular training programs
- Cultural inclusion: hey dee ho educational services believe in recognizing and respecting the wide variety of cultures, which make up our society. Our resources, props, scripts and music are chosen to reflect and respect the cultural values of families within the community.
- Learning Styles: hey dee ho educational services recognise and support all learning styles and senses in line with the Early Years Learning Framework and the National Quality Standards. Using natural fibre, handmade props wherever possible, encouraging interactive involvement at each age level and following children's direction within each play based, themed activity.